Funeral videography & live-streaming

Tell the unique story of your loved one

Why consider funeral live-streaming and video recording services?

1. Live-streamed and filmed recordings of funeral services are becoming an increasingly popular solution for those wishing to share a service with family and friends who are unable to attend.
2. Live-streamed and filmed recordings provide families with a way to remember their loved one in the future. It's an emotional and often overwhelming day, and many find they can't recall much of what was said or done at the service. Once you are emotionally ready, the recording will allow you to reflect and remember the day and the thoughts and stories that were shared about your loved one.
3. You may not be ready to watch the service immediately after the funeral but to have a recording that you can watch months or years down the track can assist with the grieving and healing process.
4. Recordings allow you to share the memory of your loved one with family and young children in the years to come. A permanent and lasting memorial that will never fade.

Our videography team is highly experienced in live-streaming and recording funerals in a professional, respectful and discreet manner. We're here to assist you in your time of need. To book a videographer or for more information ask one of the friendly staff.

All funeral videos are both live-streamed and captured in FullHD with multiple cameras and are professionally switched and edited to include high quality audio, detailed still photos and where available, pictorial reflections.
